Yugoslavia Releases U. S. Airmen

AMBASSADOR ARRIVES AT TITO'S CAPITAL WITH ULTIMATUM

DEMAND FOR RELEASE OF AIRMEN, LOOK AT PLANES IS ISSUED

BELGRADE, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The captured crew and passengers of the American Army transport forced down by Yugoslav gunfire Aug. 9 were freed today an hour before U. S. Ambassador Richard C. Patterson presented to Marshal Tito the Washington ultimatum demanding their release within 48 hours.

LJUBLJANA, Yugoslavia, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Yugoslav authorities today released Americans who had been taken in custody after their C-47 army transport plane was forced down here Aug. 9. The crewmen, with the exception of the pilot, declared following their release that their airplane was not fired upon after it was on the ground. The statement was corroborated by the passengers.

The crew members also said they understood that frequent flights by busy American and British airplanes had been made over Yugoslav territory recently, as many as 20 a day.

The release of the fliers came after the United States had issued a 48-hour ultimatum demanding they be released and allowed to leave Yugoslavia safely.

U. S. Ambassador Richard C. Patterson flew to Belgrade today after with Premier Marshal Tito, who summoned his No. 1 foreign relations expert, Gen. Vladimir Velebit, to be present at the meeting.

Gen. Velebit, Yugoslav Deputy Foreign Minister, went to the San Francisco conference and is regarded as the Yugoslav chief-tailor of personal advisor on foreign affairs.

Two U. S. graves registration representatives, First Lt. Charles O. Provov and Private George Damani, went in Patterson's plane.

Provov and Damani were given permission to search the area near Bled for the bodies of three American Air Force personnel believed to have been killed Monday when a C-47 transport was shot down in flames.

The wreckage was reported found about two miles inside Yugoslavia from the Austrian border.

The original of the American ultimatum was delivered to the Yugoslav government.

Attackers Said To Have Been Planes Made In America

TRIESTE, Aug. 22.—(AP)—An American who saw the U. S. Army transport shot down at the Yugoslav frontier today said today the Yugoslav fighters who appeared to be of American manufacture.

DEFENDS ATTACKS—Marshal Tito, (above) in a speech published in Belgrade, defended Yugoslavia's course in which two American planes have been shot down in ten days. He declared that Yugoslavia intends to insist upon its sovereignty and wanted peace "but not peace at any price." (AP Wirephoto.)

UNITED STATES, STANDING READY FOR PEACE SHOWDOWN, MAY SEND FIGHTERS WITH C-47'S HEREAFTER

By ALEX H. SINGLETON
WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The United States is considering fighter plane protection for American transport planes which may have to pass near the Yugoslav border while flying the Adriatic-Italian route, top diplomatic authority reported today.

The plan under consideration would retain the present absolute ban against any American flights over Yugoslav territory and would be designed to protect American aircraft from attack by Yugoslav fighter planes which might venture over Austria.

The whole consideration is based on a point made in the ultimatum sent to the Yugoslav government last yesterday in which the United States said that the two airplanes already attacked by Yugoslav fighters may not have been over Yugoslavia at all.

Release Demanded.
The American note, demanding release of any of the 15 persons in the two planes who are "still alive" declared that for the time being the United States makes "no statement as to the exact location of the two planes when they were attacked."

Undersecretary of State Acheson today called in Ambassador Herschel Johnson for a conference, presumably to discuss the possibilities of filling an American complaint against Yugoslavia in the U. N. security council if the Yugoslavs do not comply with the 48-hour ultimatum.

The exact time the ultimatum period ends has not been officially determined. The question is whether the time begins to run from the hour at which the Yugoslav foreign office received the cable text from its Washington embassy or when the American embassy in Belgrade delivered it.

Time To Be Set.
State Department officials told reporters they probably would give some determination of the time elements later in the day.

Considerable interest was manifested by officials here in reports that American-made fighter planes reaching Yugoslavia through lend-lease channels may have been involved in the shooting down of American transport planes on Aug. 9 and 19.

In addition to scheduling a meeting with Herschel Johnson, Acheson also arranged a meeting today with Polish Ambassador Okar Lange, who is serving this

RUNOFF VOTE NEAR

Texas gubernatorial ball game was in its final innings and the two main candidates, Homer P. Rainey and Beauford H. Jester, were bearing down, each seeking the weak spots of the other for use when the polls on Saturday.

At Nacogdoches, Jester, speaking to a street corner crowd today, emphasized his record as president of the board of regents of the University of Texas with Rainey's record as president of the University.

In this college town he was introduced by Dr. A. W. Birdwell, president emeritus of Stephen F. Austin State Teachers College, who told his fellow townsmen that the issue in the gubernatorial race is "whether we are going to have an orderly and systematic government without turmoil."

Jester spoke on a downtown corner, a few steps from the site of Sam Houston's first home in Texas. He told the crowd that his opponent's "scandal sheet" smart campaign" has boomeranged on the Rainey campaign.

He said "decent and intelligent people in all sections of Texas, where more than ten million pieces of various types of scurrilous letters, circulars and postcards have been distributed have become nauseated by the desperation tactics of my opponent."

Jester again read a letter which he attributed to the "section committee, communist party of Texas" urging people to go to the polls Aug. 24th and said in comment on it "if he is not pitching on the communist ball club he ought to get off their roster. They are battling and fighting for him. I do not say he is a communist, but he does have the support of the communist party in Texas."

Union Announces Return To Work, Withdrawal Of Pickets Without Securing A Contract

By PAUL MOORE
Daily Sun Staff

Corsicana Cotton Mills strike ended at noon Thursday when pickets were withdrawn and union members prepared to return to their old jobs. Local 77, United Textile Workers of America, had been on strike since May 23 for a contract, ninety-two days, but returned without either a verbal or written contract, officials stated. Management had no statement in the matter shortly after the pickets were withdrawn at 12:15 p.m.

The local voted at a special meeting Wednesday night at the courthouse to return to their old jobs. It was made plain in the statement issued by W. R. Herod, Laurel, Miss. international union vice president, that the union was not surrendering any rights for further bargaining, but that an impasse had been reached and that the employees were returning to work.

Mill Reopened July 16.
The status of non-union employees on duty since July 16 when the mill was re-opened was not discussed in the statement from the union spokesmen. The mill was re-opened on that date and disturbances occurring between union and non-union members at the mill entrances caused an injunction to be filed and a restraining order was granted by A. F. Mays, district judge, after the non-union workers had entered the mill premises through a cordon of Texas Rangers, highway patrol, city and county officers. The Rangers and highway patrolmen were at the mill hall here and were called when the first disturbance occurred. The hearing on the injunction was halted on several occasions for further negotiations and finally last week was dismissed on motion of the attorneys representing both management and labor, including the cross-action by the union members for $25,000 damages.

Back On Job Monday.
The union voted to return to work Monday, Aug. 26, 1946, or sooner if requested by management. The members were requested for Thursday afternoon and Friday. The entire union will be back at their old jobs by Monday.

The following letter was released by union officials as being handed to J. N. Edens, president of the Cotton Mills, at 11:15 a. m. Thursday.

"As an impasse has been reached, and nothing further is to be gained by a continuation of the strike, the members of Local Union No. 77 United Textile Workers of America, A. F. L., at a special called meeting, voted to return to their jobs as of Monday, Aug. 26, 1946 or sooner if the company so desires. The union expresses its regrets at the turn of events, but wishes to reaffirm its committee as bargaining unit for the majority of the employees. The committee will be available at all times to confer with the management or its representatives with regards to anything coming within the jurisdiction of the union.

"Respectfully submitted,
"Harry Quinn."

Turkish Reply To Dardanelles Plan, Probably No, Sent

ANKARA, Turkey, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Turkey replied today to Russian demands for joint control of the Dardanelles. Contents of the note were not disclosed immediately, but it was reasonably certain the message was a categorical denial.

Foreign Minister Hassan Saka took the note to the Soviet embassy at noon and gave the reply to Charge D'Affairs M. Pavel Brichov.

The Dardanelles control the passage between the Black Sea, which Russia half surrounds, and the Eastern Mediterranean.

Yugoslav Crisis At A Glance
By The Associated Press
BELGRADE, U. S. Ambassador Richard C. Patterson flies from Belgrade to confer with Premier Marshal Tito at Bled and to present a copy of the American ultimatum demanding release of downed fliers within 48 hours. The penalty threatened is suspension of the case to the United Nations security council.

WASHINGTON—U. S. determination to have the issue out is underlined by the fact Secretary of State Byrnes ordered Undersecretary Acheson, even before the note was handed the Yugoslav charge d'affaires late yesterday, to begin preparing the case for the security council.

PARIS—Secretary Byrnes confers with his European advisors and newly arrived Senator Tom Connally (D-Tex) after meeting U. S. military men and Yugoslav Vice Premier Edvard Kardelj. British sources take the view the ultimatum is strictly an American matter.

LONDON—Headlines reminiscent of the war years mark newspaper display of the U. S. ultimatum. The Evening News says the outcome may profoundly affect "the future of world politics for many years to come."

MOSCOW—The Moscow radio reports the exchange of notes between Belgrade and Washington without Soviet comment.

TRIESTE—An American ex-diplomat who saw the U. S. Army transport shot down near Bled Monday says the attacking fighters looked like American-made Mustangs, but Belgrade advisers are that the Yugoslavs were no longer using lend-lease planes.

SLAV DISPUTE MAY TEST U. N.

By CHARLES A. GRUMICH
NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The United States ultimatum to Yugoslavia threatens to confront the United Nations security council with a problem which could bring the whole peace conference organization to a bitter showdown which may hinge upon the Big Five veto power.

Council delegations were cautious today in speculating on what might happen if the Yugoslav government ignored the American demand for release of airmen held prisoner by the Tito government following the shooting down of unarmed U. S. transport planes.

However, it was conceded that the American threat to appeal to the security council should Yugoslavia fail to comply would give the council its supreme test of authority to settle disputes peacefully.

Up to now the council never has been faced with such an emergency as might be brought before it were the Yugoslavs stiffened by Russian backing, to ignore or reject the American ultimatum.

The Yugoslav case, if it reaches the council, is confidently expected to be informed U. N. quarters to fit the pattern of conflict between Russia and the western powers over the Iranian and Spanish cases still languishing on the council's agenda.

The veto power vested in the Big Five which Russia thrice invoked in the Spanish case, may well prove the deciding factor should the Yugoslav case come before the council.

Should the United States fail to receive a satisfactory reply from Belgrade within 48 hours after the ultimatum is delivered in the Yugoslav capital, the American government is expected to ask the president of the security council, Dr. Oscar Lange of Poland, to call a special session of the council.

Hillsboro Extends City Limits; Sets City Tax At $1.65

HILLSBORO, Texas, Aug. 22.—The local city council this week annexed 125 acres of property adjoining the city limits, extending 8000 feet east and 200 feet north of the present boundaries. This section was in line with an amendment to the city charter adopted last April permitting the annexation of property adjoining the city limits with or without the consent of the property owners involved.

The council also fixed the city tax rate at $1.65. The tax is divided 80 cents for schools, 30 cents for general fund, 15 cents for streets and 40 cents for bonds. This is a 30 cent increase for the schools and five cent decrease in the bond levy.

Official here have emphasized all along that the United States is not making any claim to the right to unauthorized flight over Yugoslav territory. The American case is based on the contention that the Yugoslavs had no right, however, to shoot down American aircraft which might have flown over their territory by mistake. To this position the ultimatum added the additional point that the Yugoslavs had no right to send fighter craft beyond Yugoslav boundaries to shoot down American aircraft properly over Austria.

As the 48 hour ultimatum ticked away, the United States stood ready—if necessary—for a showdown involving the whole structure of world peace.

In a grave and angry indictment, this nation set tomorrow night as the deadline for the Soviet-backed Balkan State to (1) free imprisoned American airmen of one plane attacked by Yugoslav fighter craft, and (2) permit U. S. diplomats to investigate a second incident of a plane shot down near Marshal Tito's summer home.

It warned that unless those "demands" are met within the time limit—roughly about 10 p. m. Eastern Standard Time, Friday—the United States government "will call upon the Security Council of the United Nations to meet promptly and to take appropriate action."

Council Faces Test. This would pose a clearest test of the Security Council to function as an international agency for preserving peace in the face of veto powers held by the Big Five nations.

There were strong fears in American diplomatic quarters of possible Yugoslav defiance of the ultimatum—and with that possibility the chance that a Russian veto of Security Council action would have to be met.

But there was no American government reluctance to meet that challenge.

U. S. Ready for Test. Even before sober-faced Yugo-slav charge d'affaires, Serge Makledov, was handed the note late yesterday. Secretary of State Byrnes in Paris ordered Under-Secretary Acheson to begin preparing the American case and to be ready to present it personally to the Security Council.

That fact underscored both the anxiety and the determination to have the issue out. It had been reflected less than 24 hours earlier by two other major diplomatic developments:

1. A firm stand by the United States against Russia's demands for a share in the military control of the strategic Dardanelles.

2. Disclosure by those high in government of a firm new policy against appeasing Russia and against a further spread of Soviet domination over smaller and weaker countries.

Issue Clearly Stated. If that policy is to come up for a quick test, the issue was unfolded in late night's blistering note to Yugoslavia.

Shorn of the traditional diplomatic salutations, it was couched in language perhaps without precedent in peacetime communications from this country to another nation.

It stemmed from two "incidents" termed "outrageous" in the ultimatum.

Plane Attacks Incidents. One was the action of Yugoslav fighters August 9 in firing upon and forcing down an American plane, whose crew and passengers then were imprisoned.

The second involved another passenger plane ten days later. The state department said it had been informed that this plane was shot down and "some" of its occupants killed.

Dispatches from Belgrade said the wreckage of the craft was found about two miles from the Austrian border.

The United States claimed that the planes were forced off their routes by bad weather.

Yugoslavia has disputed this, taking the position that the planes were over Yugoslavia illegally and in violation of its territory.

Yugoslav explanations of the Yugoslav explanations the United States termed them "wholly unsatisfactory to the government and shocking to the people of the United States."

"These outrageous acts have been perpetrated by a government that professes to be a friendly nation," the ultimatum said.

Citing the fact that the planes were unarmed, it declared that their flight "in no way constituted a threat to the sovereignty of Yugoslavia."

Move Drilling Rig To New Location. The drilling rig at Coffield and Guthrie A. P. Mays No. 1, John McNeal survey was being moved Thursday to the E. W. Smith farm in the G. W. Bragg survey for a Woodbine sand wildcat venture by Tempe Hargrove and Wheelock Brothers.

The shallow probe six and one-half miles south of Angus was abandoned Wednesday after the operator reached the Austin shale section at 1943 feet without indications. A Schlumberger electrical survey indicated possible presence of oil and brine at 330 feet in limited quantity. Pinnas are to drill again in the near future in the same area. Judge A. P. Mays disclosed.

POLITICS
Houston the two opponents yesterday used baseball phraseology in carrying out their attacks. The runoff campaign began with a series of baseball language telegrams.
Rainey, in a broadcast from Houston, said the game had gone into the ninth inning with "Homer Rainey pitching, my opponent coming to bat, two down and the bases loaded."
"Pitching" Not So Good.
He said the major railroads and bus lines were on first base, the major oil, gas and sulphur companies on second, and the Texas Regulars on third, "all of them hoping to steal home or get there somehow if their star player can just hit."
But Jester, at a Gregg-Harrison county rally at Hallsville, didn't think much of Rainey's pitching. Jester quoted from a letter assailing his candidacy and which he said was signed by "Section Committee, Communist Party of Texas." Quotations included, "A vote for Jester is a vote for enemies of the working people of our state" and "use your vote against the trusts or their agents."
Red Charge Made.
After reading the letter, Jester said: "They (Communists) seem to be on his ball team. Now he says he is against Communism. It is just another one of the things he is ducking and dodging. He has lost his fast ball. He has lost his curve ball. All he's got is a mud ball."
Continuing his analysis of the ball game, Rainey said, "on the third base coaching line is the Eastern banker, who owns the team, calls all the plays, fixes the salaries of the players and collects the gate revenues."
Referring to Jester as the "star batter," the former University president said that his opponent is a member of the Railroad Commission and that the commission has the power to make or break the oil companies, the railroads, the buses, the trucks and the shippers.
Commission Post Criticized.

Important Notice To Election Officials

The Sun will attempt to give complete county totals the night of the election. This will be impossible without your box.
Just tell the operator to connect you with the Daily Sun, Corsicana (Collect).
You should bear in mind that there is a law in effect requiring that your returns be phoned in immediately after the polls are closed and the count completed. Your co-operation will be greatly appreciated.
I will make my headquarters at the Daily Sun office the night of the election.
JACK H. THOMPSON,
County Chairman.

"he will still be a member of the railroad commission for four more years."
"The Eastern bankers and their Texas flunkies know if they lose this game, they will have to pay us a part of the millions they are taking from the resources of Texas as their fair contribution to the welfare of the state," he said.
Answering a charge that there would be "disharmony" in the state government if he is elected, Rainey said he got along all right as president of Bucknell University and got along in harmony as executive director of the American Youth Commission, a Rockefeller sponsored organization. He said he got along all right with the board of regents that elected him as president of the University of Texas and added, "but I couldn't get along with the Republican and Texas Regular regents that fired me."
Rainey Pledges Harmony.
In concluding his radio address, Rainey said that "as governor of Texas, I can work in harmony and cooperate with the two houses of the legislature, who represent the people. But I will have trouble with the third house, or lobbyists and representatives of the interests who oppose fair and reasonable taxes on them for the welfare of Texas and who work only for a general sales tax on poverty. I can never harmonize with these professional lobbyists like my opponent can."

Jester, in commenting further on the Houston letter, said, "It is interesting to know just who his (Rainey's) helpers and workers are. It is interesting to know just who is lined up in this campaign."
Earlier in the day, at Center, Jester told his audience that the people of Texas know how he stands on the Ku Klux Klan.
Clies Ferguson Support.
"If they have not known it before, they would have known now I stood when I read Mrs. (Jim) Ferguson's letter of endorsement at Taylor," Jester again charged that Rainey has changed his campaign platform.
My opponent is the only man in the race who ever proposed a sales tax," he said. "When he saw how repugnant it was, he dropped it just like he has dropped some other un-Texas things. Now he has the audacity to suggest I advocate a sales tax. I'm running on the same platform I started with but he has changed his."
Opponent "Off Horse."
Jester said his opponent had started out the campaign "as a crusading knight on a white horse" but that now "he has gotten off the horse and is on the defensive."
The railroad commissioner charged that Rainey is no longer waging a campaign for governor. "He is waging a campaign for governor," he added.
"Holding up copies of campaign circulars which he said were distributed by Rainey forces, Jester said he would leave it to the people to decide who is using slander sheets and postcards "to revile an opponent."
Propaganda Charged.
He is flooding the state with that type of literature. He is charging that one of my publicly men is putting out a campaign of hate. That is a falsehood," Jester charged. "I hold in my hand another piece of my opponent's propaganda. Most of it is not signed." Referring to Mrs. Ferguson again, Jester said, "You know Democracy must have a common enemy in Texas when former Governor Dan Moody and former Governor Miriam Ferguson are traveling together on Beauford Jester's people's path."

Myron Blalock of Marshall, Democratic national committeeman from Texas who this week openly endorsed Jester, appeared at the Hallsville rally with the railroad commissioner.
"Liberalism vs. Radicalism."
He told the crowd on the Hallsville school house lawn that the governor's race is not "liberalism vs. conservatism but liberalism vs. radicalism."
Blalock said that he had kept quiet in the campaign until "the last few days when we noticed the greatest slander campaign in Texas political history."
He said he spoke for Jester not in his official party capacity but "as your neighbor."
Jester's opponent has gone so far as to issue slander sheets against men who have so much as raised a finger in Beauford Jester's behalf," the national committeeman continued. "I personally know most of the things said about Beauford Jester and his publicity man in Dallas are untrue." and not one to sit on the sidelines and say nothing when my friends are being slandered."
Jester Near Home.
Blalock said he was opposed to a man "who advocates state management form of government."
Today, Rainey was to return to Northeast Texas for a night rally in Hopkins county at Sulphur Springs, home of Atty. Gen. Grover Sellers, who ran third in the July gubernatorial campaign and who since has openly endorsed Jester.
Jester was to speak this morning at Nacogdoches, this afternoon at Palestine and tonight at Tyler.
Rainey will conclude his campaign tomorrow night at San Antonio, while Jester will be in Fort Worth after speaking during the day at Gainesville and Deatur.

EVEN AT 60 M.P.H. NEW TIRE OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES

Now you can order these tires for your car
Here is your answer to "Will today's tire stand up under a long grind at high speed?"
In a test of the new B.F. Goodrich tire, test cars were driven steadily at sixty miles per hour, hour after hour, averaging over a thousand miles a day in all kinds of weather. Side by side on the wheels of these cars were prewar tires and the new B.F. Goodrich tire. Tires were shifted from wheel to wheel so that both took the same beating. The new B.F. Goodrich Silvertowns outlast the prewar tires—showed less wear—were good for thousands of extra miles.
Why? One reason is because the new tire has a wider, flatter tread that puts more rubber on the road, spreads the wear over a greater surface. The tire body, or carcass, is stronger too... made that way by using tougher cords and more of them.
We are receiving regular shipments of these new B.F. Goodrich Silvertown tires. See us today.

SUPPLY OF SHOTGUN SHELLS FOR HUNTERS SHORT, SAY DEALERS

SOME SIZES NOT TO BE AVAILABLE UNLESS PICTURE CHANGES

There aren't going to be many more shotgun shells for hunters this year than there were last year local hardware dealers think. And in some sizes, there simply will not be any shells at all unless the picture changes unexpectedly.

At Perry & Mitchell Hardware Co., Paul Mitchell said. "The picture doesn't look so good. We have shells now but we don't have any reserve to take care of more than our current demand."

Prospects Faded
Albert Daniels at Simon Daniels Tire Co. said: "We had some good prospects 60 or 90 days ago but these prospects have faded. We have been getting some shells. The hunters who buy their shells by the case will have plenty because they have already stocked up. It is going to be the fellow who buys them by the box as he needs them who will run out."

J. W. Nelson at Roney's said. "Things are pretty rough. They are a little better than they were last year but that isn't saying anything."

He added that he was getting a fairly large quantity of 12 gauge shells. "The Army has released a large number of these shells. It didn't use anything but 12 gauge. That accounts for the larger number of

GOP Candidate For Congress Be Named

The Republican executive committee of the sixth congressional district has been called to meet in Corsicana at 2 p.m., August 24, at 204 South Beaton street, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the office of representative to congress from the Sixth congressional district and to transact such other business as may properly come before the convention, according to announcement Tuesday by Hugh Loper, chairman, Republican executive committee for the Sixth congressional district of Texas.

These that are coming in. "Nobody offered any hope for the fellow who uses a little .410 gauge shotgun. It seems that the stores are simply not getting any of these shells. However, the calls for them are infrequent. More people use .12 gauge than any other size and the shortage in these is not so acute. There are also some .16 gauge shells in local stores. Smaller sizes are not in stock and nobody expects to get them. Manufacturers have been returning purchase orders and telling the retailers that they can ship only a portion of what the retailers would like to have."

Quarterly Shipments
Shells are not being shipped to retailers in the same way that they were before the war, according to one retailer. The jobbers ship them quarterly. If a retailer exhausts his stock before the end of the quarter, he will simply have to turn his customers away. The jobber will not ship to him again until the next quarterly date. Before the war, when shells were plentiful, the dealer could get shells shipped to him at any time he sent in an order.

COUNTY FARMERS SUCCESSFUL WITH CLOVER AND PEAS

Navarro county farmers have enjoyed success in the production of Hubam clover as a cash crop and soil improving practice, and Austrian winter peas for winter cover crops are praised by others, according to statement issued from the Navarro-Hill soil conservation district authorities.

C. C. Roberts, Phillips Chapel conservation group, recently harvested 500 pounds of Hubam clover to the acre on the 17 acres devoted to this crop. He plans to plant 70 acres next year. Roberts thinks the addition of 200 pounds of superphosphate per acre adds considerably to his yields.

E. L. Watson of the conservation group, near Barry, has been growing Hubam clover as a cash crop and soil improving practice the past five years. He is quoted as saying that on land used for Hubam clover for seed two years he will make a half bale of cotton per acre, while where he hasn't planted any soil improving crops the yield will be less than one-fourth bale. There is no chopping and cultivating this crop, and insects do not ruin the crop.

J. W. Watkins of the Jester Conservation group has been using Austrian winter peas for winter cover since 1942. The 1942 crop was turned under in the spring of 1943.

"You can tell to the row three years later where the peas came to," Watkins stated. He plans to plant 50 acres this fall to Austrian peas.

John DeRusha of the Black Hills conservation group has been planting Austrian winter peas on eroded blackland for the past three years and estimates his cotton yields has increased at least one third on that land.

Supervisors of the district are urging all farmers to think of the jobs necessary to get winter cover and soil improving crops on the land this fall and winter. Many farmers have already bought vetch and Austrian winter peas.

Messdames A. B. Horn and B. H. Clark left today for a several days' stay in Austin.

CORSICANAN OBJECTS

Jack Smith, Corsicana, North Texas Agricultural student at Arlington, figured in a brief argument with Dr. Homer E. Rainey, former University of Texas president, gubernatorial candidate, Monday at Arlington, following an address by the candidate in which Beauford H. Jester, Corsicana, Rainey's opponent in the run-off, was criticized. Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Smith, 1629 West Fourth avenue. William T. Rivers, staff correspondent for the Dallas Morning News, wrote that Smith pointed out that while Rainey was talking, dodgers attacking Jester as the tool of large corporations and plotting him as a marionette being manipulated by Texas Regulars and special interests were being dropped into automobiles.

NEW, VERY STRONG EARTHQUAKE HITS DOMINICAN REGION

WESTON, Mass., Aug. 22.—(AP)—A "very strong" earthquake apparently centered in Samana Bay, Dominican Republic, in the neighborhood of an earlier quake which claimed more than 65 lives two weeks ago, was recorded on the Weston College seismograph yesterday at 3:22:49 p. m. (EDT). The station described it as "the second strongest after shock" of the original quake and said it was strong enough to do considerable damage. "Normally it could be described as a 'quake in itself,'" the station added.

Mrs. Jon C. Henderson and daughters, Connie and Betty, of Oswatimie, Kas., who are visiting in the Sid Story home, went to Georgetown Thursday morning for a visit with relatives there through Monday.

ROBBERY

Pierce Said Convict
In Dallas, FBI agent Percy Wyly II said Pierce was a convict on parole from the California State Penitentiary, where he had served years of two life sentences for armed robbery.

A man walked into the bank at 12:26 p. m. yesterday, entering through the front office of President. E. Collins, who was out to lunch and proceeded behind the counter. He forced four bank employees at the point of an automatic shotgun to lie face down on the floor while he bound their hands with friction tape.

Two more members of the crew seen to parachute were believed held by the Yugoslavs, along with seven other Americans and three non-American passengers of another C-47 forced to land 10 days earlier.

Air Force Small
The best information here was that the two transports were not attacked by lend-lease planes since the Yugoslavs were no longer believed using any types of British or American-made fighter craft.

Foreign military observers said the Yugoslav air force is small and made up of pilots who need training and flying experience. For that reason, observers said, the attrition rate from mechanical failure and pilot error is about 60 per cent higher than some other air forces. There is no available estimate of the total strength of the air force available here.

Theodore Hoenenthal, U. S. consul at Zagreb, was informed today by officials at Yugoslav Fourth Army headquarters in Ljubljana, in northern Yugoslavia that no trace had been found of two more American crew members of the C-47 who were seen to parachute from the blazing plane. This information added to fears that they may also have been killed.

Seven other Americans and three non-American passengers of an unarmed C-47 transport, which was forced to land by Yugoslav fighters 10 days earlier, still were held by Yugoslav authorities.

Veletit With Patterson

Following the conference with the Yugoslav chief of state, Patterson arranged to fly to Geneva, Switzerland, to refuse, and then proceed to a meeting with Gen. Mark W. Clark, commander of U. S. forces in Austria. Both C-47 planes when they were forced down were flying from Vienna, Clark's headquarters, to Udine, Italy.

It was reliably reported that during recent months Yugoslavia acquired about 300 Russian Stormovik fighter planes from Russia. While of war-time vintage they were reported to have been given strengthened protection for the pilots by the addition of armor plating.

of illegal Jewish refugees to Cyprus. The Hafia harbor area was under curfew from the early morning hours until 8 a. m., reportedly because of the imminent departure of another transport, the Empire Heywood, for Cyprus with a load of illegal immigrants.

The Heywood was damaged in a sabotage attempt last Saturday when two small gelignite bombs were ignited in her hull. The damage was serious enough to force her to turn back to port for repairs.

Police said the Empire Heywood was damaged shortly before midnight, the first one shortly after two swimmers had been seen in the harbor nearby. It was believed that only crew members were aboard and that none of them were hurt.

In Tel Aviv, strong forces of soldiers and police moved in shortly after midnight and all roads leading into the city were described as being jammed with military traffic, but there was no immediate explanation of what was afoot. The towns of Peta Tiqua, Ramatgan, Batian and Rishon Le Zion also were reported cut off by troops.

Troops Enter City. Just before the troops entered Tel Aviv the residents of the city were thrown into a state of excitement by the accidental explosion of a boiler in a mill, causing a roaring fire which continued to burn while British patrols and mobile police units drove through the streets.

Spokesmen for the Jewish underground Jewish organization, Hagana, circulated through Tel Aviv last night, warning crowds that the British were about to start new operations against the Jews, following up a broadcast Tuesday by an underground radio Revolt is Urged. "We are prepared to meet this regime," the broadcast said. The Hagana speakers, addressing motion picture theater crowds, urged their listeners to refuse to cooperate with Palestine authorities and not to hand over any personal documents. Earlier, the so-called Stern Gang, another Jewish underground group, had threatened reprisals if 18 young Jews under sentence of death are executed.

question of employment of military forces was looking rather far into the future, since the United States ultimatum threatened only recourse to the United Nations Security Council in the event of incidents should ignore or fail to accede to the demands to release within 48 hours the surviving American fliers and to allow American diplomats to investigate the incidents.

Trieste Is Calm. Trieste, which was part of old Austria-Hungary until the Italians seized it in 1918, took the news of the American ultimatum calmly.

Rioting between Italian and Slav elements in the Adriatic port city subsided in July and the calm has been broken since only by a demonstration before American military government headquarters last night. angles of the tense situation, one Yugoslav source said "the matter is in the hands of Marshal Tito," indicating that all active statements would come from the head of the government.

News of the American ultimatum—ordering Marshal Tito's government to give the United States satisfaction within 48 hours for acts described as warlike or face action by the United Nations security council—circulated quickly among peace conference delegates during the early morning hours.

Debate On Agenda. Debate on reparations and territorial demands against Italy by Albania, Egypt and Austria was on today's agenda for the 21-nation peace conference. Allied diplomats, however, were concerned mainly with the effect on what some observers considered the sharpest blow yet to hopes for early and amicable settlements on treaties, coming, as it did on the heels of stubborn wrangling between the western powers and Soviet Russia over her eastern European adherents.

The atmosphere in the headquarters of the U. S. peace delegation at the Hotel Maurice was far different from that in Luxembourg last week, where the conference sessions are being held. Uniformed generals, such as Maj. Gen. Ralph Huesner, wartime commander of the famous U. S. First Infantry, walked in and out of Byrnes door.

Huesner is scheduled to visit Bull as Gen. Joseph T. McNarney's chief of staff soon.

Byrnes also has been in long distance telephone communication with President Truman aboard the Presidential Yacht, Williamsburg, in the Atlantic and with Dean Acheson, acting Secretary of State in Washington.

EX-SERVICE MAN REQUESTS VOTE FOR MOTHER--MABLE WILKINSON

I am James Wilkinson speaking in behalf of my mother Mable Wilkinson, your County Clerk and candidate for re-election to that office on the 24th of August.

Some of you may know me. For those of you who do not: I attended grade school and high school here in Corsicana, went to the University of Texas, and joined the Navy 4 years ago. I have just completed a tour of duty in the North Atlantic on the LSS Houston, on which I was a Radar Officer, and arrived home from Germany only a week and a half ago. My sister is now at the University of Texas, and I plan to go there myself in September to complete a course in Engineering which I began before the war.

When I was 4, my father died and the responsibility of supporting the family fell to my mother. And she has worked continuously since that time. At the end of the next 2 years, both my sister and I will be self-supporting, and she can look to us in an emergency. For this reason, this is the last time she will ask the voters of Navarro County for public office.

As a veteran myself, I am very pleased with the interest the voters of this county have shown in veterans during this campaign. A vote for Mable Wilkinson in this race is a vote for me, the representative of the Wilkinson family in the armed forces. But this, of course, is not the only factor to be considered. I believe -- and I think you will agree -- that in a position as important as that of County Clerk ABILITY-TO-DO-THE-JOB should be one's first consideration when casting a ballot.

The work of that office is particularly heavy at the present time. Always there is a great amount of work, requiring specialized knowledge of many subjects -- for example, the Clerk records and issues certified copies of your deeds, leases, wills; issues your hunting and fishing licenses, explosive licenses, marriage licenses; records your birth certificates, death certificates; keeps the records of the Probate Commissioners and County Courts; handles your absentee voting -- but now the work is further increased by the return of thousands of service men with discharge records to be recorded. Mable Wilkinson is familiar with all of this work, can administrate the entire office, and can do the job of any of the deputies if such is necessary.

Because of the excessive work in the office this year, she has often been unable to leave and solicit your vote personally. But her campaigning has been fair. She asks for your vote on this basis: She needs the job, and she knows from experience how to do that job.

An office as important to the county as the Clerk's office, demands an officer who can give COURTEOUS and EFFICIENT service. Mable Wilkinson can give that courteous and efficient service.

I believe you will do a favor for me an ex-service man, for other ex-servicemen, and for yourself, by casting your vote for Mable Wilkinson for County Clerk on Saturday.

JAMES WILKINSON.

UNFOUGHT BATTLE

A battle, never fought, which would have been a humdinger, was the contemplated German assault on Gibraltar. Secret war records now uncovered show that the Nazis had their plans for an artillery attack in 1941 that would have surpassed anything yet seen. Among the guns were 80-centimeter monsters on railroad mounts, which could fire a shell a yard in diameter and over six feet long, or twice the size of the long-range shells aimed across the Channel at Great Britain. Franco, Hitler's not-so-silent partner, was to supply the troops, but the German shells were expected to do most of the work.

Could the Nazis have turned the trick? Undoubtedly they would have come near it. Skeptics should remember how in 1914 supposedly invincible Liege and Antwerp were reduced in no time by the unforseen German 42-centimeter howitzers, and how in 1940 Belgian strongholds like Eben Emael held out no better than cream puffs against the Nazi shelling.

Heavy artillery was a German specialty in both wars. Gibraltar would have been the supreme test, but only a bold man could be confident that Gibraltar would have held out. Fortunately, instead of making the attempt, Hitler decided to attack Russia.

NO BOOM, NO BUST

President Truman has decided to make an effort to do away with the fluctuating economy which hitherto has been taken for granted as normal. A few years of feverish prosperity have always been followed by several years of depression, but some economists are convinced that it need not be so. The work of the President's new Council of Economic Advisers will be to analyze business trends and show the country how to spread out employment evenly over a period of years. If building construction, for instance, could be planned for and authorized in good times, and then held off until depression days, when materials and labor are cheaper, the back of a depression would be broken.

So many agencies have a hand in promoting programs of public works and public construction that a good deal of education would be necessary to put such a program across with any degree of success. The Economic Council may have to plan a sort of public information campaign to get the support of the country at large.

EARLIER IRON CURTAIN

The famous iron curtain, whereby the Soviet Union has cut off Eastern Europe from the rest of the world, is not a Russian invention. It is merely a reverse application of the "sanitary dividing line" which the Allies set up against Bolshevik Russia in 1919. Georges Clemenceau, the French premier, was its foremost sponsor. Seeking future allies for France against Germany, he hoped to find them in a chain of small states bordering on Russia and running all the way from the Baltic to the Balkans. These were meant to act as an impervious barrier against Communism.

The system did not work. The small states were coveted both by the Germans and by the Russians. One after another they all fell into the hands of the two great powers.

SENATORIAL TRENDS

Senator Kenneth D. McKellar of Tennessee has weathered what seems to be a dangerous year for senators. Four have been defeated for renomination—Henrick Shipstead of Minnesota, George L. Radcliffe of Maryland, Charles C. Gossett of Idaho and Burton K. Wheeler of Montana. Of these Shipstead and Wheeler had served 24 years and might have been supposed equal to any possible political storm. Two others withdrew before the final choice—Raymond E. Willis of Indiana, because he saw defeat impending, and Peter G. Gerry of Rhode Island, another 24-year veteran, who had formidable opposition and may not have thought the fight worth while.

In all cases except in Indiana the displaced senator was more conservative than his successor, either on domestic issues or foreign or both. Does this indicate a trend for the fall election? Or is a truer tale told by Nebraska and Tennessee, where conservative incumbents retained their seats?

WIVES GOING UP

Wives cost too much. Not the upkeep, but the original expenditure. This is reported from a meeting of British Empire scientists in South Africa. It seems that the natives buy their wives for so many heads of cattle. As the price has gone up lately, overstocking and overgrazing have ensued, with serious effects on soil erosion.

South Africa apparently has no ceiling on wives. This might be the solution.

MOUNDBUILDERS' WORK

In its last days Congress paid some attention to the prehistoric records of America, by authorizing the Interior Department to give to Pennsylvania most of the land occupied by the Hopewell Village National Historic Site. This is in Berks County, near Reading and Chester. It is a park of over 5,000 acres, and incidentally, the site of one of the country's earliest charcoal-burning iron furnaces. Uncle Sam will restore the old furnace, and Pennsylvania will make a park of the remaining land.

This site is one of the chief monuments of the people popularly called Moundbuilders, though historians now seldom use the term. The mounds are now thought to have been built by Indians, which would mean that the Moundbuilders were not a separate people. There were different types of sites, the Hopewell (named after an important example on the Hopewell farm near Chillicothe, O.) being perhaps the most important. The Hopewell people seem to have disappeared abruptly, perhaps having been slain by the Iroquois.

The Pennsylvania site is a valuable specimen, and Congress does well to assure its perpetual keeping.

OLDEST CITY

Was the world's oldest civilization located in South America? The late Arturo Posnansky, archaeologist and museum director, thought so. He was born in Germany, went to Bolivia and became one of the greatest living authorities on the Inca ruins of Pacific South America. One site, Tiahuanacu, near Lake Titicaca in Bolivia, particularly fascinated him.

Last year Posnansky published a large three-volume work, which was translated into English, to prove that Tiahuanacu dated back not merely to B. C. 4,000 or 5,000, like the earliest remains in Egypt and Babylonia, but to B. C. 11,000. Although many stone knives and other objects made by prehistoric man are much earlier, if this date is correct, Tiahuanacu would be far the oldest city known.

As is always the case with specialists, other specialists do not agree with Posnansky. But he has helped make Tiahuanacu into one of the world's most famous ruins.

ATHLETIC DANCING

As dance floors become smaller, dancing becomes more athletic and less graceful. The cotillion, which required great open spaces for its graceful, formal, involved figures, was crowded out by the waltz, whose swaying, sweeping rhythm could do with a slightly smaller ballroom. When dancing came to be closely associated with eating, the floor became a small spot surrounded by tables.

But the question of space was not the only influence at work, according to Bernie Sager, a teacher of the tango-choreo art. He claims that the rumba, which he says could be danced in a telephone booth, is based on rhythms which are in the blood and bones of Americans, expressing their nervous energy and muscular control. Sager, who has been in the show business for 25 years, claims that Jitterbug is jiu-jitsu and judo in rhythm time. He taught those arts of self-defense to army commandos during the war.

The observer whose dancing days were spent in ballrooms watches the athletic antics on the dime-sized dance floors of today with a sigh that is half nostalgia and half envy of such athletic prowess.

PHEASANT BUSINESS

Prospects for the pheasant crop in South Dakota this fall look very good. Last year 200,000 enthusiastic hunters donned their red caps, rushed out on the prairies and returned home with eight million birds.

In spite of tremendous take, enough pheasants remained to produce an abundance again this year. Summer tourists have seen plenty of the handsome birds with bright plumage skittering by the roadside. In only nine years the sale of licenses to non-residents of the state has increased from 1,000 to 100,000, and bird hunting has brought profitable business.

VOTE FOR

JACK MEGARITY

(Paid for by Friends for Efficient Government)

To The Citizens of Navarro County

Thank you for the splendid vote given me in the first primary which enabled me to lead the ticket by approximately 700 votes. I sincerely solicit your continued support and your vote and influence in my behalf on August 24th.

Prior to my enlistment in the Marine Corps where I served 4 years, 32 months of which I spent in the South Pacific, I was engaged in business for myself and others doing all the buying, selling, bookkeeping and clerical work. Since the office of County Clerk is purely a clerical office, I feel that my past experience amply qualifies me to render you efficient and courteous service as your County Clerk.

My opponent will have served as County Clerk for six years at the end of her present term. For this service you, the people of Navarro County, have paid her $28,500.00. I feel that I too am qualified to serve you, and am now only asking that you give me a chance, the same chance you have already given my opponent for the past 6 years.

If elected I pledge to you the people an honest, efficient, and courteous administration of the affairs of the office of County Clerk.

Your support and influence on August 24th will be greatly appreciated, and you will never have cause to regret having cast your vote for me.

TRAINING PROGRAM VETERANS EXPLAINED AT CIVITAN MEETING

RALPH EVANS, COORDINATOR, PRINCIPAL SPEAKER NOON THURSDAY

Ralph Evans, co-ordinator of the vocational training school, explained the training program he is conducting here to the members of the Civitan Club at its weekly meeting today.

In his address he stressed that veterans are being eliminated from the program when it appears to the instructors that they are interested only in the subsistence allowance paid them by the government during their attendance.

He said that on the other hand many of the veterans who attend show exceptional interest in the program and that it is estimated that their earning ability will be so increased at the end of the three-year training period that their income will be $500 a year higher than it would be at present without the government subsidy.

Tenant farmers who attend the school, he told Civitans, are often reluctant to make certain recommendations for improvement on their land in following the agricultural training program because these improvements are long range and their results will not be reflected in the farmer's income for more than a year.

"The policy of making contracts for a period of only a year with the landlord is a deterrent for this type of improvement," he said.

No Connection.

He pointed out that there is no connection between his program, which is sponsored by the state board of education and the Veterans Administration, and the negro vocational training school, a privately operated institution.

Also on the program were Ruth Elaine Foster and Dr. Wayne Howell, who played a duet.

A new scale of dues, established to absorb the higher cost of meals recently inaugurated, was announced. Hereafter, members will pay a flat membership fee of $2 a month and 75 cents for each meal. If there are five Thursdays in one month, the fifth meal will be free to members.

Members of the program committee for next week are E. G. Hall and Dr. J. L. Hollingsworth.

Mrs. Lendon Lewis, who has been a patient in the Navarro Clinic, has been removed to the home of her parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. Lewis, where she is convalescing nicely.

OLDEST LAW DEALS WITH SEX ON TERMS ABOVE TODAY'S LEVEL*

Moral Slump of Present Time Confronted by Awesome Severity of Ten Commandments and New Testament -- Heaven's Gate Shut to Adulterers -- National Morale, Personal Morals.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS and EARL L. DOUGLAS

One critic wrote of a recent "best seller," "This is the greatest real estate bargain of the day; it offers more dirt for the money than may be had anywhere else." I heard a successful author say publicly that she could not find a publisher for her book until she had "sexed it up."

These two quotations portray more than a literary trend of the times: They reveal a colossal slump in public morals. All avenues of salaciousness, from home and abroad, portray a moral looseness amongst many members of the armed forces. It is matched by the prevalence of adultery in our own land. The old standards of society and of the Bible are breaking down.

This is a terrible truth about our modern life. It indicates a breakdown, like that witnessed in France, which threatens national morale and national stability. Our feet are on the path that led ancient Rome over the precipice. A country's morale cannot survive the decline of its morals. Patriotism unites with religion in challenging the present mood.

As we confront the evil tendency of the times, which is inextricably bound up with the common attitude toward religion, we face squarely up to the truth that what we euphemistically call "social looseness," is defiance and disobedience of the clear law of the Eternal. We need to hear the thunders of Sinai as the "Voice cried, 'Thou shalt not commit adultery.' This is God's word and God's will, disobedience of which entails severe penalties. Myriads of men have found the happiness of married life marred, and made miserable, by memories of their past sinning.

Profound social wisdom underlies the Apostle's "Keep thyself pure," and the Law of Jesus, "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God." The impure heart are forever banned from spiritual vision—shut off from communion with Him who is our real life. Nobody was ever sorry for having lived a pure life; millions have regretted through the canker of remembered sin sitting at his table.

The Best Reason For Chastity Society may relax its standards of chastity; but the Law of God stands forever in its inexorable. As Joseph cried, in the face of powerful temptation, "How then can I do this great wickedness, and sin against God?" That is the best and soundest reason for a chaste life. We are answerable to God. His word makes it clear that the gates of heaven are closed against the adulterer. From the grim red peaks of Sinai to the love little tale of Romeo and Juliet, the Law runs clear. The truth is an awesome one to contemplate.

In the Near East the unwritten law is that the nearest male kin shall slay a man and woman taken in adultery. Such a case occurred in Palestine during one of my visits; it was kept from the authorities. So sacred is maidenhood that it is said that a maiden may cross Arabia alone with a bag of gold on each shoulder, and be unmolested.

A Matter of Thoughts "Guard well thy thoughts; our thoughts are heard in heaven," said the poet Young. Nobody may escape temptation, but everybody may resist it, as Joseph did. Chinese have a saying, "We may not prevent birds from flying over our heads, but we may keep them from making nests in our hair." Alice Meynell's lovely poem: "The Shepherds," portrays maidenhood. "She walks—the lady of my delight—a shepherdess of sheep, Her flock her thoughts. She keeps them white; She guards them from the steep, She feeds them on the fragrant height. And folds them in for sleep." In our Lesson text, Paul, who like Jesus, taught that conduct eventuates from spirit, gave a masterly summary of the controlled mind that produces the good life.

"Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things."

Man's spiritual existence is like the flight of a bird in the air; he is sustained only by effort, and when he ceases to exert himself he falls. —Froude.

For right is right, since God is God. And right the day must win; To doubt would be disloyalty—To falter would be sin. —Faber.

Associate yourself with men of good quality, if you esteem your reputation. —Washington.

Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life. —Proverb 4:22.

Thou hast on earth a Trinity: Thyself, my fellow-man and me; When one with him, then one with Thee; Nor, save together, Thine are we. —Tabb.

Intelligence, patriotism, Christianity, and a firm reliance on Him who has never forsaken this favored land, are still competent to adjust in the best way our present difficulty. —Lincoln.

Coke Sees "65-35" Margin For Jester In Million Ballots

AUSTIN, Tex., Aug. 22.—(P)—Gov. Coke Stevenson today predicted approximately one million votes will be cast in Saturday's Democratic run-off election.

He said he expected the vote in the governor's race to be divided "about 65-35" in favor of Beauford Jester.

The governor spent nearly an hour at his regular press conference this morning reviewing "the record" he said he had been collecting "for quite some time" concerning gubernatorial candidate Homer P. Rainey, deputy president of the University of Texas.

"I think the regents were long suffering and patient to an unusual degree with him out there," Stevenson declared. Dr. Rainey was fired by the University's board of regents in 1944 after he issued a 16-point statement, critical of the regents' policies, particularly in regard to what he termed "academic freedom."

Stevenson said he still has not made up his mind whether to go on the radio before Saturday's election.

He said voters told him at a radio he attended yesterday at Ranger: "We're going to vote the same as you are. We're going to vote for Jester."

PROPOSED TRANSFER OF SURPLUS CAMPS, WAR PLANTS STOPPED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(P)—The War Assets Administration today halted the proposed transfer of 53 surplus camps and war plants to educational institutions pending a congressional inquiry into such "gifts."

A number of Texas projects were involved. The WAA stop order followed disclosure before the house surplus property committee that the Thunderbird, Ariz., airfield had been "sold" at 100 percent discount to the newly incorporated American Institute for Foreign Trade.

Order Blocks Sale.

The order blocks the "sale" of more than $15,000,000 worth of other government property, and the leasing of about as much more.

All the properties had been assigned for disposal at a 100 percent discount to non-profit, tax exempt institutions. Those earmarked for lease were to have gone for nominal sums, such as $1 a year rental.

WAA said the stop order resulted from action of the committee headed by Rep. Slaughter (D-Mo.) in questioning the authority of the WAA to dispose of Thunderbird Field, near Glendale, Ariz., to a group of former army officers headed by Lt. Gen. B. K. Yount.

The Thunderbird property cost the government $407,000, but several of the properties now frozen cost much more—including the Gulf Ordnance plant at Aberdeen, Miss., and the Tycoon Tackle war plant at Miami, Fla., which cost $2,840,000 each.

The agency's list of non-industrial portions of government-owned surplus real property on which a 100 percent discount had been recommended and to which the order applies with names of applicants and current market values includes:

VIOLENCE REPORTED SPREADING THROUGH THREE AREAS IN INDIA

CLASHES SIMILAR TO THOSE IN CALCUTTA AGAIN SWEEP LAND

BOMBAY, Aug. 22.—(P)—Communal clashes between Hindus and Moslems—which cost approximately 3,000 lives in Calcutta last week—were reported spreading today through Bengal, Bihar, Assam provinces, with four persons dead and a score injured.

In Dacca and Ranigan, both in Bengal, elaborate police precautions were taken to prevent further outbreaks of violence, which killed two persons in each town. Other clashes were reported at Banka, in Bihar province, and Sylhet, in Assam. Troops and armed police were on duty in both those places.

Leaders Condemn Riots.

Moslem and Hindu leaders in New Delhi both condemned the bloody Calcutta rioting and responsible observers said they did not think the bitter fighting would affect current efforts to form an interim government pending plans for making India independent.

Authorities sought to increase Calcutta's seriously depleted food supply as disposal squads continued the gruesome job of picking up bodies and clearing away the wreckage of looted shops.

Dawn, the Delhi newspaper, founded by Mahomed Ali Jinnah, Moslem league president, declared editorially today that the Calcutta rioting was "not Moslem direct action in action, it was the other side's premeditated direct action against the very idea of (Moslem) direct action."

Clashes Began Friday.

The Calcutta clashes started Friday during a Moslem "Direct Action" Day protesting British plans for Indian independence.

The paper, which usually is accepted as speaking for the Moslem league, carried a Calcutta dispatch from its own correspondent saying that Moslems were attacked unawares "and only retaliated later. x x x Numerous pockets of the Moslem population in certain areas were completely wiped out. The reverse was by no means true."

MANY HURT, MISSING IN BLAST, FIRE AT W. VIRGINIA PLANT

NITRO, W. Va., Aug. 22.—(P)—At least seven persons were admitted to hospitals today and one was missing after an explosion and fire swept the Ohio Apex Company's plant here.

The full extent of casualties was not immediately known almost two hours after the blast as fire companies assembled from all surrounding areas fought the flames in the big plastics manufacturing establishment.

Company B headquarters of the state police at South Charleston said at noon, however, that it was advised by one of the troopers at the scene that the explosion "did not appear to be as serious as it first seemed."

Police headquarters added that the roof of the plant building was blown off and it was "not known whether anyone is trapped in the fire."

Within little more than an hour after the blast, two patients were admitted to Kanawha Valley Hospital and one to the South Charleston Hospital. At South Charleston said it had admitted "five or six."

The state labor department's annual record lists 804 employees at the Ohio Apex plant.

Meat Ceilings Will Be In Effect Sept. 9

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(P)—The OPA today hiked price ceilings on coal and signaled for a boost on oranges. On top of this, an agency official reported retail lamb prices will be higher than June 30 ceilings when meat controls are restored Sept. 9.

The lamb prices will average at least five cents more a pound than on June 30, the official told a reporter, saying the increase is necessary because OPA and the agriculture department decided against revival of the lamb subsidy. This totaled $36,000,000 in fiscal 1946.

OPA officials said subsidy payments on cattle and hogs will be revised at the June 29 rate, as authorized by the price decontrol board.

Friends And Fellow Citizens of Navarro County

Tonight the campaign comes to a close. In the morning the voting begins. The case is closed, the evidence is all in. I am making my last appeal. You sovereign voters of Navarro county make up the jury. The verdict is in your hands. I await your decision. I have fought hard but I have not fought foul. I have tried to conduct a clean campaign. I have not run against my opponent; I have campaigned for Arnold A. Armstrong. I have always tried to teach my student's and my own two boys to try to be too strong to stoop to foul play, strong enough to accept defeat without whining and victory without boasting.

So I leave you to judge whether I have fought a good fight. I know I have kept the faith, as I did serving sixteen months overseas in the United States Navy. I confess that I covet the crown of Victory. I hope you find me deserving.

Respectfully,

ARNOLD A. ARMSTRONG

Candidate for ASSESSOR AND COLLECTOR OF TAXES.

Thank You

For your very courteous reception when I came to solicit your vote. I certainly appreciate it. Your vote next Saturday will be appreciated. For your next Commissioner elect—

FIVE CASES EACH OF TYPHOID, TYPHUS AND UNDULANT FEVER

Typhoid fever, typhus fever, and undulant fever are spreading through Corsicana and the surrounding area with five cases of each known to health authorities.

Dr. Will Miller, acting director of the Corsicana-Navarro health department, said today that about five cases of each of the contagious diseases are now known to him. Additional cases of typhoid are suspected.

In an effort to check the spread of typhus, help has been requested from the Division of Predator and Rodent Control of the U. S. department of interior.

Fort Worth office has promised that a field agent will arrive in Corsicana Friday to assist health officials. Typhus is commonly spread through rat-borne fleas.

Loretta Gaillard, city sanitarian, said this morning that she has received many complaints from local householders about rats and that she would seek the co-operation of all business houses and householders in a campaign to rid the city of the rodents.

Typhoid is a fifth-borne disease, usually resulting from the contamination of water sources by infiltrating sewage. Dr. Miller said that local sewage conditions are well known to the general public to require any further comment from him on the subject.

Undulant fever or Malta fever was said to be a milk-borne disease, although infection from other sources is possible.

Methodist Bishop Says Members Do Not Vote In Bloc

HOUSTON, Aug. 21.—(P)—Bishop A. Frank Smith of the Methodist church, last night issued a statement in which he denied "any thought or purpose of attempting to speak for Texas Methodists on political matters."

The bishop's statement followed distribution of a circular purportedly prepared by headquarters of Beauford H. Jester, candidate for governor. Smith said the circular quoted him as saying, "The Methodist people are back of Beauford Jester 100 per cent."

"Methodists do not vote as a bloc nor do they vote for candidates because they are Methodists," Smith said. "They vote as individual citizens. No person is competent to speak for Methodists politically, save each Methodist for himself."

Col. Teague, presently assigned to McCloskey General Hospital at Temple, is undergoing treatment for war wounds. He revealed he expects to obtain inactive duty status soon from the Washington hospital in order to take his seat in the house.

He was left unopposed by the withdrawal of Tom L. Tyson of Navarro county for the seat vacated by Luther A. Johnson, who resigned to accept a place on the federal tax court.

Col. Teague was to have been the principal speaker at the Lions Club luncheon today, but was forced to cancel his engagement due to illness upon the advice of physicians. He expects to return to the county in the near future to meet his constituents more thoroughly.

SUB-DISTRICT YOUTH FELLOWSHIP MEETING HELD TUESDAY NIGHT

Over one hundred young people are guests of the present Tuesday night for the regular monthly meeting of the Sub-District Methodist Youth Fellowship which met in the Educational building of the First Methodist church.

The evening program was started with a sing-song led by Mrs. Veola Short, educational director of First church, followed by a worship program given by the young people of the church. Nancy Mize was the leader of this program.

The young people who gave the vesper program of prayer, verse and hymns were accompanied by Mrs. Short at the piano. At the business session Glendean White, president, reported on his trip to the young people's meeting at Mount Sequoyah as a delegate from the Youth Fellowship organization. Minutes of the past meeting were read, an offering was taken and it was announced that the next meeting will be held at the Eleventh Avenue Methodist church.

The program of the day was concluded by the showing of slides and colored motion pictures by Erwin Bohmfalk. He took the pictures while stationed in India and China with the U. S. army air force.

Refreshments of cookies, cold drinks and sandwiches were served at the conclusion of the motion pictures. Lynmar Barnes announced that young people's revival will be observed at the revival meeting at the Eleventh Avenue Methodist church Thursday night.

Owl With Four-Foot Wingspread Killed

F. P. McCulston of the White's Chapel community killed a huge hoot owl near his home Tuesday. The wingspread of the big bird was four feet. A foot and claws were exhibited here Tuesday afternoon.

McCulston discovered the owl sitting alongside a road near his home. Stopping the car, McCulston noted, he threw a wrench at the bird and missed. Picking up a four-inch trailer hitch pin, McCulston ended the owl's career by hitting him squarely between the eyes as the bird turned his head to look at him.

Chickens at the McCulston farm have been molested recently, and it is possible that the depredations were caused by the owl.

Absentee Voting Is Heavy Here; Record Indicated In State

There had been 470 absentee ballots cast for the approaching run-off Democratic primary election Saturday, Aug. 24, at the office of Mable Wilkinson, county clerk, Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock. This is an increase of 58 over the same date prior to the first primary election last month when 412 had been received.

Absentee balloting ended at midnight Tuesday, but votes in the mail postmarked prior to midnight will be forwarded to the proper election officials for counting.

The county clerk will forward the absentee ballots to the election judges Thursday.

Election supplies for the Democratic primary election have been prepared for the precinct chairmen and ten boxes had been delivered early Wednesday.

The large number of absentees indicates that there will eline be a huge turn-out for the run-off primary election Saturday or that many more Navarro countians are away on vacation trips during August than in July.

State Records Topple

Absentee voting records toppled in Texas counties today as county clerks reported new high totals following the midnight deadline, the Associated Press reported.

Complete totals will not be known until ballots mailed out to absentee voters have been returned and tallied. Ballots postmarked before midnight will be counted.

At Austin the Travis County Clerk reported a new record vote of 2,028 for second primary elections. Another 100 ballots were mailed out but have not been returned. The absentee voting total in 1944 was 325.

McLennan county reported 818 absentee voters, topping the first primary total by 18 votes. A total of 23 ballots were mailed out.

Dallas County High

A new absentee voting record appeared certain for Dallas county. At deadline time yesterday a total of 2,504 absentee ballots had been cast with nearly 656 ballots still out. County Clerk Ed Steger estimated that nearly all of the ballots mailed out would be returned.

The all-time high for absentee voting in Dallas county stands at the 2,514 absent votes cast in the first primary, July 27.

San Antonio reported 1,006 absentee votes cast by deadline time, compared to 1,100 in the first primary.

Absentee voting in Navarro county for the run-off primary totaled 470, setting a new high over the 412 for the July primary.

A new record of 1,389 absentee votes, including those mailed out, was reported from Fort Worth. This tops the previous record set on July 27 by 200 votes. A total of 442 ballots were mailed out this year with 177 not returned. The 1944 vote was 223.

U. S. ATTORNEY SAYS SHIP THEFT REPORTS ARE "EXAGGERATED"

BEAUMONT, Aug. 22.—(P)—Steve M. King, United States district attorney, has stated that published accounts of thefts or waste of government property at the navy yard at Orange, Texas, had been exaggerated and indicated the actual amount would be much less than $200,000.

King stated that property with a cost value of $1705.62 had been recovered from a cache of navy goods found in a field in a remote area of Orange county.

Previous estimates of the value of the property involved ranged from $200,000 to $1,500,000.

King said that no arrests had been made, no charges filed and no one is being retained in connection with the finding of the navy property. He added that there had been no indication of any active connection by navy officials.

King's statement was the first from an official source concerning the alleged theft or waste of federal property. FBI and navy officials have declined comment.

A Constable's Earnings

depend on the number of arrests and convictions secured by him. But, in our opinion, unjust arrests should not be made, nor mock trials held under the guise of law enforcement, to enable constables to enrich themselves.

SAM CURRY has been Constable of Precinct 1 since November, 1945, by appointment of our Commissioners Court. Since then, to our knowledge, he has fully performed the duties of his office, and yet, the rights of all, regardless of color, have been respected; no longer is Navarro County held in fear and contempt by the citizens who travel our highways.

SAM CURRY is 54 years of age and the only man remaining in the race with a war record. He is a veteran of World War I, with combat service on foreign soil. He also gave three sons to World War II, and one of his sons made the supreme sacrifice.

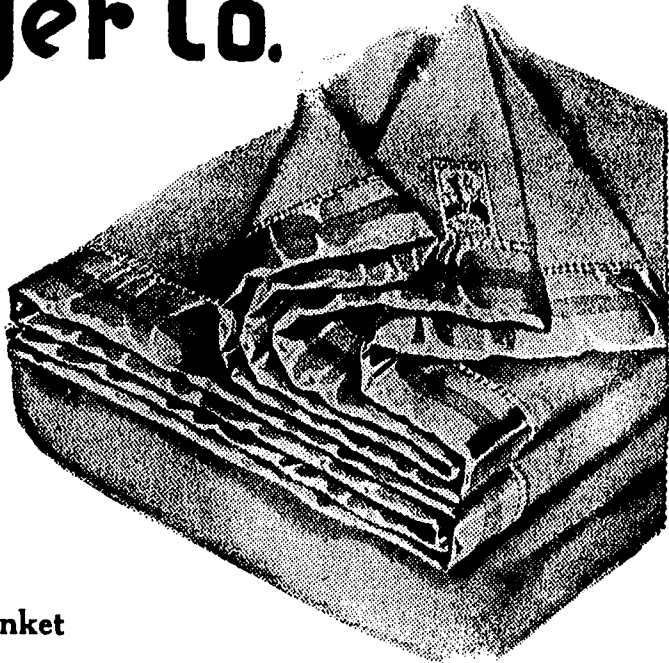

SAM CURRY knows how to wear a gun and remain a gentleman.

SAM CURRY served as Constable of Precinct 4 for thirteen years, comprised of Blooming Grove, Frost, Purdon, Emmett, Dresden, Navarro Mills and Raleigh, without opposition, and as Deputy Sheriff of Navarro County for three years before voluntarily resigning. Since being Constable of this precinct, he has acted without the aid of a deputy and has reduced the expense of the office to the taxpayer. If elected, he will continue to serve without a deputy.

We, his friends, respectfully request your help in electing SAM CURRY as Constable of Precinct No. 1, Navarro County. Paid for by his friends and Veterans of World War I and II.

Combat Veteran For Halley Blake

Corsicana, Texas
August 14, 1946

Dear Voters:

I am Dan Blake Cunningham, writing in the interest of my cousin, Halley Blake, who is a candidate for Assessor and Collector of Taxes of Navarro County.

As many of you probably know, my mother died a short time after my birth and Halley's father and mother took me to rear. When I was six years of age her father died leaving her the responsibility of taking care of me and her mother. During the following years Halley worked and struggled on a very small salary to keep her family together and provide me with an education, whereas she could have placed me in an Orphans home if she had chosen to do so.

When Halley was first elected Tax Collector she was deeply in debt. Her election to this office enabled her, to pay her debts and send me to the University of Texas where I remained until our entry into World War II. In order to send me to school she sacrificed her opportunity to buy a home.

In 1942 I volunteered for the Army Air Corps, after first gaining permission from my guardian, Halley Blake, as I was then a minor and under age for enlistment. My two years at the University of Texas provided me with the necessary education to become a bombardier-navigator in the air force. After completion of the required months of training in the United States, I was ordered overseas for combat duty. After thirty hours flying time we landed on our combat field in the European theatre of war and became a unit of the 816 Heavy Bombardment Squadron. From this field I completed 47 combat missions (13 as lead bombardier). Many of these missions were flown over some of the most heavily defended targets in Europe, including the Ploesti Oil Refineries in Rumania, Munich, Germany, and the Regensburg Ball Bearing Works in Germany and many others. The above statements are not made in any boastful manner whatsoever. There were many thousands of Americans flying missions over Germany at the same time that I was making mine. I was just one of many. The point I am trying to bring out is that my cousin, Halley Blake, is responsible for my upbringing and education, which enabled me to perform the above mentioned services for my country.

I expect to reenter the University this fall, working toward a degree which will require two more years of study.

I will deeply appreciate your support and influence for and in behalf of my cousin, Halley Blake, for Assessor and Collector of Taxes of Navarro County on August 24, 1946.

Sincerely yours,
DAN BLAKE CUNNINGHAM,
Combat Veteran World War II.
